

Now With F.M.L.

We agree with board member John Henderson, Jr., that CISD should pursue construction of its science classrooms. The fieldhouse is complete, alleviating only slightly the need for gymnasium improvements. What is needed of course is a new gymnasium with adequate locker space for gym students and girls athletics, which is coming of age. But two bond issues failed to materialize funding for a new gymnasium among other things. CISD will have to modify and clean up the present gym for an interim period until a new one is possible. No one knows what period that would be.

NOW-NOW-NOW

The offer of a spokesman for two Cameron Lions Clubs and Knights of Columbus to build four tennis courts at a figure of $6,345 certainly justifies space on the Yoe Campus for the courts.

Charlie Kunz asked for CISD to provide one-fourth of the amount in addition to space which would be about 125 feet by 220 feet, backstop to backstop and sideline to sidelines of four courts.

The question of where the courts are placed is not confined to that space just because most people consider the Yoe Campus, as high school, Ben Milam and Ada Henderson, the gym and grounds.

The Yoe Campus is also where those two old frame houses are located, that line of metal and concrete block buildings, Yoe Field and that area west of the field which includes some additional space recently obtained by CISD.

Within all that, there should be ample space of about 125 feet by 220 feet to offset any ground lost in line where existing Yoe Courts are.

Playgrounds around a high school building need not be adjacent to the building itself. It is quite common for tennis courts to be built adjacent to buildings.

CISD would never be able to build four new tennis courts for that much space and about $1,500. The offer at today's building and paving costs is a bargain among bargains.

A line of seven courts would provide a tennis facility which through tennis tournaments would generate revenue and donations from players who would support a real tennis center.

Most towns this size and smaller ones have anywhere from six to a dozen courts in central location for community tennis. Georgetown has 10. Thorndale is getting new ones. Lampasas holds annual tournaments. So do Taylor, Hillsboro and numerous others the same size.

Like the science classrooms, improved gym facilities and additional tennis courts are important to community development, girls athletics and a successful all-sports program in CISD.

Amendments Up For Vote

Polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 22 for a constitutional amendment election which has drawn little interest locally and over the state.

The election includes voting on two proposed amendments, one to raise legislators' salaries, which has been put to the vote before and defeated.

County commissioners consolidated two voting boxes for the Tuesday election only. Salem voting Pct. 3 and Elm Ridge Pct. 5 will be consolidated with Cameron voting Pct. 1 for that election only.

Cameron Pct. 2 voters will cast their ballots at the Cameron Community Center for that election only.

Proposed Amendment No. 1 would revise and consolidate provisions relating to state and local retirement systems and programs and provide for a maximum state contribution to state systems of 10 percent of the aggregate compensation paid to individuals.

Proposed Amendment No. 2 would set the salaries of members of the legislature at $600 per month and set a per diem of $30 during legislative sessions and a mileage allowance at the same rate provided by law for state employees.

One argument for the first proposal states that pensions are absolutely indispensable complement to wages in the modern concept of employment, and it is important that constitutional provisions be well organized and easily understood. The proposed amendment accomplishes this purpose by consolidating provisions and including them within a single section, Article IV, Section 67.

An argument against the amendment states that the consolidation into one section of the constitution of such diverse retirement pension provisions as those for state employees, teachers, and county and municipal employees could endanger each system by attempting to make general provisions apply in dissimilar situations. And it is argued that it is imperative that the cost of state government be reduced if further inflation is to be halted.

One argument for the second proposal states that the legislator can no longer be considered a part-time official. Increasing complexity in the problems of state governments and greater expenditure of time as a member of standing and special interim committees meetings between sessions leaves the legislator little time to devote to his private business or profession. The $4,800 annual salary now provided in the constitution is inadequate to meet present day costs of living.

Against the proposal, it is argued that a substantial pay increase for members of the legislature during this critical period of inflation and recession would increase the costs of state government and bring about a resulting increase in taxes at a time when the people are least able to pay. The Texas Constitution requires the legislature to meet in regular session not to exceed 140 days every two years, so the job is not envisioned as a full-time one.

(Arguments for and against the proposed amendments are provided in a publication by the Texas Legislative Council.)

CONCRETE FOR FOUNDATIONS of the new building on the downtown mall was being poured for the start of construction. The building will house a dress shop and offices.

New Development Planned

ROCKDALE

Rockdale city councilmen unanimously approved a proposed development, including streets, utilities, and 43 lots, of a new residential area in the black community to be named "High View Addition." The plan was submitted by Frank Anderson, president of the Rockdale Housing & Development Corporation. Councilmen approved sewer line extension to the property.

Head-On Collision Kills One

GEORGETOWN

A head-on collision on IS 35 in Georgetown last Saturday claimed the life of Gary Lynn Hill, 36, a local man. Hill lost control of his station wagon which jumped across the median and struck an oncoming tractor-trailer. According to an eye witness, the station wagon was in the air when it collided with the southbound truck, which turned over in the accident. The driver was not injured.

Customers Protest High Rates

CALDWELL

Over 300 members of the Bluebonnet Electric Cooperative crowded into Frenstat recreation center to protest huge increases in their electric bills. Recent energy cost charges added to the cooperative's regular rates have sent monthly residential bills up 100 to 150 percent above what they were before the energy crisis.

Hearne's CD Program Funded

HEARNE

Nearly two million dollars will be pumped into improving Hearne over the next five years following the recent funding of the Hearne Community Development Program. Of the hundreds of cities nationwide applying for the funds, Hearne is one of the first to receive approval. It was the third approved in Texas.

Council Votes Legal Action

LAMPASAS

Angry Lampasas city councilmen meant business Tuesday night when they met in emergency session. Before the 20-minute meeting was adjourned they had voted to take legal action against Lone Star Gas Co. to stop the local gas supplier from excavating streets and easements. At a regular meeting Monday, a Lone Star attorney told council it would be necessary for the company to excavate numerous streets to inspect and collect data to be presented before the Texas Railroad Commission.

Burn Victim Loses Leg

GATESVILLE

Lynne Dickie of King underwent her fifth operation Tuesday when surgeons amputated her right leg at mid-calf. Relatives of the plucky 11-year-old child reported that she was doing "pretty good." Lynne sustained severe burns when she ran into a high-voltage power line near her home March 27. She had deep burns on her right shoulder and arm and both feet.

Parade To Spark Homecoming

Rogers ex-students and Rogers for-mer residents will be gathering Saturday from all over to visit with old friends, view the great parade at 2, eat the good barbecue from 5:30 until 7:30, and enjoy the meeting in the school gym at 8.

An added feature to the biennial homecoming this year will be the American Bicentennial recognition ceremony at 11 a.m. in front of the new city hall. Rogers has been approved as a Bicentennial community and the recognition will be in a special program.

Commissioners Continue Study Of Tax Office

County commissioners will view revised plans for a new county tax office at a called meeting this week, following revisions of plans studied by County Tax Collector-Assessor Valter White.

White met with commissioners Thursday morning and explained some of the plans for the building. It will include a vault for storage of permanent records, supply storage room, machine room, conference room, offices, and a lobby.

The plan being studied would contain 3,500 square feet of storage space, compared to the present 1,500 square foot facility being used in the courthouse. Cost would run about $105,000 or less, as the architect advised that building costs are going down.

White said that at the present time supplies are being stored in the hall, permanent records on the floor, and layout of the present office puts clerks behind foundation pillars where they can't see taxpayers who come in for service.

In other business, commissioners agreed to rent office space over the Bigbee offices at $100 a month for a year for the county Extension office.

They also approved a request from Texas Resource Development Corp. of Houston to drill in bar ditches along county roads, and gave permission to commissioner Dalton Caffey to seek bids on a new tractor and shredder. bids to be opened April 30.

Notables will be on hand to present the US, the Texas, and the Bicentennial flags, and state and national Bicentennial certificates. The Rogers school band with Jay Taylor will play patriotic music and the National Anthem when the flags are raised by the Rogers High School student council.

The big parade at 2 p.m. is a highlight of the homecoming, as a great variety of floats will be seen, including school classes competing for the homecoming queen championship and other school groups, area riding clubs, old wagons and buggies, old automobiles, and many others.

There will be a parade contest and winners. "Great Moments in History" is the theme for the parade, but there will be a variety of others too. Groups wanting to enter the parade should contact the parade committee: Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Mayfield, Mr. and Mrs. John Gunter, and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Cobb.

The barbecue is "something to write home about," and will be served at the school cafeteria. The business meeting will be held in the school gym with Bob Green, president, as master of ceremonies. Awards will be made and officers for the 1977 biennial event will be elected.

In the morning hours before and after the Bicentennial program, Bill Henderson and his "Sundowners" will give a concert by Tuc's Drive In.

Up to as many as 5,000 people attend the Rogers Exes Homecoming, a biennial event. This will be the 15th homecoming. Free coffee and refreshments will be served in the new community center downtown in the morning hours and until 1 p.m. by the Rogers Community Service Club.

The new community center building and the city hall will be "showoff spots" during the day. The center is being built by the Rogers Community Service Club with donated labor, even much of the skilled labor and with donations for materials. Much donated labor is also being used on the city hall also under construction. It is hoped both buildings will be completed by April 26.

Lignite Stripmining Could Cause Ag Loss

Stripmining of the strippable lignite in Milam County would cause the county to lose an estimated $8,886,758 per year of agricultural income, according to a preliminary computation prepared by "STATES" the Ad Hoc organization to "Save Texas Agriculture, Timber, and Ecosystems from Stripmining." The total loss for the state of Texas is estimated at $122 million per year.

How long those losses would continue depends on how well the state requires stripminers to reclaim the land. The agricultural loss is not occurring all at once, but is coming on, year by year, as more land is stripped.

This loss is in addition to the agricultural losses caused by stripping of other resources beside lignite. In addition to agricultural losses, there will be incalculable losses of pine-hardwood forest, hunting and fishing.

At present, there is no legal requirement that stripminers reclaim the land. State Rep. Buddy Temple, of Diboll, has filed H.B. 656 which would make such a requirement. Temple's bill would also assure Texas landowners that their land could not be stripped without their specific written agreement to stripmining, rather than a mere lease of their lignite, sand, gravel, and other minerals. Texas State Sen. Lloyd Doggett has filed an identical bill in the Senate, S.B. 66.

The "STATES" computation on losses is based on lignite figures in the 1974 report by the Bureau of Economic Geology, University of Texas, agricultural land figures in the 1967 U.S. Census of Agriculture, and payments for agricultural products in the 1973 reports of the Texas Department of Agriculture and US Department of Agriculture Statistical Reporting Service.

IRS Rebates Due Taxpayers Start In May

AUSTIN

The first of 78 million tax rebate checks will be mailed on May 9, Howard C. Longley, acting IRS district director for southern Texas, said today. The bulk of the mailings should be completed by the end of June.

Longley said taxpayers who filed returns the earliest will receive rebate checks first. The payments stem from enactment of the Tax Reduction Act of 1975 which provides for a rebate of 1974 taxes of between $100 and $200 for most taxpayers, Longley added.

The IRS will automatically compute all rebates.

Approximately 67 million taxpayers, Longley said, will receive checks reflecting the rebate only. Those include taxpayers who have already received their refunds for 1974 or whose refunds are already in process at IRS.

City Receives Sales Tax Rebate

The city of Cameron received $2,721.61 for a sales tax rebate which represents collections between Feb. 18, the cutoff date of the last quarterly payment, and April 4.

This was the first ever monthly payment of city sales taxes which replaces the old quarterly rebates which Comptroller Bob Bullock said "were only a step ahead of the Pony Express."

The quarterly system, with a lag of 60 to 90 days between the state getting the tax and when it went to the cities, had been in use since the first city sales tax went into effect in 1968.

Other county cities receiving refunds included Rockdale with $2,197.48 and Thorndale, $861.79.

April Is Transfer Month

April is the month for school transfers, and April is nearly gone. Any student who wants to transfer from one school to the other must handle the transfer during April. No transfers will be made after this month for the coming school year.

Private Growth To Follow...

Well, Cameron has a feasibility study underway for a new auditorium; the county is hearing architect's plans for what amounts to a Court-house Annex called tax office; and the city is getting on with belated paving while looking to a municipal building down the line.

This is well in line with plans announced for Citizens National Bank expansion downtown, urban expansion plans for an exhibit arena-farmers market type of facility and park development in the OJT neighborhood.

Point of all this is that Milam County seat is projecting itself into tomorrow, including county government, city government, school district, which accounts for every local level in the Milam area.

Constant planning is showing throughout. If Cameron and Milam County have known anything like this, it would have to be just about the time of heavy influx of new peoples 80 to 90 years ago.

It is fair to predict broader private development will follow all this.

A Winner In Print...

Yoe High School may have a lot of things schools the size of Buckholts lack, but the thing isn't a newspaper.

Buckholts High School also has a prize-winning newspaper. Four BHS newspaper staffers won awards in the district Interscholastic League competition.

Yoe High School once had a student paper, which went out of print because of budget and the likelihood the administration may have considered it a source of controversy.

Whatever, Yoe High School needs a print publication, mimeo at least, giving visibility to the writing that goes into journalism courses.

If there is a question of student view vs. administration, it is a simple matter to juxtapose the views, if they differ.

Congratulations to Buckholts for putting out a prize winner in student newspapers. We hope Cameron will again join those publication ranks.

Concorde Flies Into New Opposition

WASHINGTON -- The Anglo-French Concorde is flying into new opposition from environmental and other groups who believe that plans to fly the supersonic airliner into New York and Washington next year will set a damaging precedent.

The growing "Ban the Concorde" movement will present its views at hearings being held by the Federal Aviation Administration.

The Ford administration is anxious not to stand in the way of Concorde flights for fear of harming relations with Britain and France.

A ban on Concorde could provoke charges across the Atlantic that U. S. airlines were fearful of competition that would have flying time between London and New York. Congress scrapped America's own supersonic airliner program.

Although the FAA has tentatively approved only four flights a day to and from New York and two a day at Dulles Airport near Washington, many groups feel that this could be just the thin end of the wedge.

The Metropolitan Council of Governments - an umbrella organization for the three million population greater Washington area - voted this week to oppose the flights into Dulles until the aircraft can meet environmental standards set for subsonic planes.

The council's board warned that if the Concorde were allowed in it would set a precedent difficult to ignore when other airlines want to fly in supersonic airliners.

It noted that the Iranian airline is buying the Concorde and the Soviet Union is planning to put its own supersonic TU-144 into service.

Environmental groups concerned about the plane's noise and its alleged threat to the earth's protective ozone layer as it flies at high altitudes are also expected to urge the FAA to ban the aircraft.

They were handed extra ammunition for their fight recently with the publication of a scientific report warning that widespread flights by supersonic airliners could affect the ozone and lead to a rise in cases of skin cancer.

Anti-Concorde groups will put their case to the government in hearings in Washington and in New York.

The New York hearings are regarded as presenting the greater threat to the new service. While Dulles airport is run by the pro-Concorde FFA, New York's John F. Kennedy airport is controlled by the New York Port Authority which has come out overwhelmingly against the plane.

The port authority told New York Governor Hugh Carey earlier this week that the Concorde would not be allowed to land at Kennedy until it met all legal requirements, including noise limits.

Port authority chairman William Ronan gave this assurance after Carey had asked the authority bar even test flights unless the Concorde complied with environmental standards.

British officials are said to feel that the Concorde's builders have gone as far as they can in cutting engine noise. Any further reduction would mean a completely new plane, they believe.

They are understood urging the State Department to bring pressure on New York authorities in an effort to get them to take diplomatic and political considerations into account in their Concorde decision.

The British are said to be hopeful that his effort, combined with a campaign to present the Concorde case to the public, will win the day.

HERC, CITIZEN DOG

THE FAMILY LAWYER

School's "Long Arm"

Big Eddie, an oversized teenager, liked to bully the girls on their way home from school. When several parents finally complained to school officials, Eddie was placed on probation.

But at that point, his own parents decided to take a hand. Filing a lawsuit against the school, they claimed their son's punishment was illegal.

"All of these incidents happened after school, away from school grounds," they pointed out. "Therefore, the whole matter was outside the school's jurisdiction. Problems of this kind ought to be handled by the parents, not by the school."

However, the court upheld the probation order against Eddie. The court said schools have a "long arm" reaching any misconduct by students, even away from school, that disrupts the educational process. Said the judge:

"The true test (is) not the time or place of the offense, but its effect upon the morale or efficiency of the school."

Still, to justify disciplinary action, the harm to the school must be substantial.

Thus, another court voided the suspension of a high school athlete who had been found in a car containing several bottles of beer. The bottles were not his. He had not been drinking. And the incident took place during vacation. The court said there was not enough harm to the educational process to justify the penalty.

In a third case, two students were suspended for publishing an "underground" newspaper, which they had distributed off school premises.

Evidence in a court hearing indicated that the newspaper did indeed contain criticism of the school. But the criticism was not

1) libelous;
2) inflammatory; or
3) obscene.

The court thereupon lifted the suspension, saying that school authorities had overreacted. They should have been particularly wary, said the court, of infringing on the constitutional right of freedom of the press.

Implanting Of Teeth, Less Tooth Decay Seen

LONDON

Reuter - If you've lost a tooth, a dentist may soon be able to implant a new one from a selection of extracted teeth kept alive in his deep freeze.

But it appears we will not be losing so many in the future anyway, for tooth decay may rapidly become a thing of the past.

A new natural sugar - the old variety is the arch-villain behind cavities - is now available and it reduces decay by up to 90 percent. In addition, an anti-decay vaccine may not be far off.

Details of these developments were given to 1,000 dentists at the International Association for Dental Research meeting in London.

Swedish scientists have successfully tested freezing technique that will keep extracted teeth and their roots alive for more than a year for re-implantation into the same, or another, patient.

Dr. P. Otteskog of the Karolinska Institute of Stockholm said the method might pave the way for "tooth banks" of donor's teeth which could be matched up for size and color to the recipient's.

Teeth that are poorly positioned can be pulled out and transplanted in a new spot. Dentists sometimes want to delay transplanting until the gums have healed and this can be done already by storing the tooth in a tissue culture.

Dr. Otteskog has gone much further. In a study, he took

21 healthy teeth extracted for orthodontic reasons and stored them in a liquid nitrogen freezer that dipped down to minus 197 degree Centigrade (minus 322 F.)

A year later, the teeth and their attached root tissue were still alive, he told the meeting. He suggested that are simply thrown away at present, could be stored on a long-term basis.

British researchers said we may be moving towards a time when people can be vaccinated against tooth decay. It has already been done with monkeys.

Professor Thomas Lehner of Guy's Hospital told of tests with young Rhesus monkeys. They were given shots of dead organisms, called streptococcus mutans, which cause tooth decay.

The monkeys were fed on a human diet and it was found they showed "a significant decrease in the incidence of tooth decay," according to Prof. Lehner.

He told Reuter that the dead organisms induce antibodies and white blood cells which act against the bacteria causing tooth decay. "I sincerely hope that within the next decade a vaccine will be available for humans," he said.

Details of the new sugar were given by Finnish scientists. Known as Xylitol, it is as sweet as ordinary sugar and is found in berries, fruits, and birch trees, from which chewing gum and pastilles are made in Finland.

Professors Arje Scheinin and Kouko Makinen of Turku University described a two-year study in Finland in which 125 adults took part.

Some used ordinary sugar as a sweetener, some fructose, a fruit sugar, and others Xylitol. The Xylitol group had 90 percent less tooth decay than those on ordinary sugar.

But, the wood-sugar is expensive. A two-pound bag costs almost seven dollars, so it's unlikely to replace ordinary sugar in sweets.

What excited the dentists, however, is that even small amounts of the stuff seem to have a protective effect. Uncompleted studies in Finland suggest that chewing five sticks of Xylitol gum a day can produce the protective results of a full-scale diet.

"These results are very preliminary," Professor Scheinin said.

Hors d'oeuvre (pronounced or-DEEV) originally meant "outside of the work," now it means food served outside of the meal!

Opinion Poll Nixes Agency

The majority of American people, according to a recently revealed opinion poll, do not believe this country needs another bureaucratic agency to look after consumer interests.

Yet, the 94th Congress seems more determined than any of its predecessors to enact a law creating such an agency, regardless of what the people may want.

According to a nationwide survey of public attitudes conducted by Opinion Research Corporation of Princeton, N.J., a majority of American consumers are opposed to creation of a new agency for consumer activities.

Given a choice between creating a new consumer agency or taking steps to make existing consumer agencies (at least 33 operating more than 1,000 consumer-related programs) more effective, the respondents favored strengthening existing agencies by a margin of 75% to 13%.

Of the 13% who favored a new agency, more than half said they would rather forget the idea when informed that it would cost $60 million to run the agency its first three years of existence.

These findings are consistent with arguments advanced by such groups as the United States in opposing similar bills over the past five years.

If the present consumer agencies are not doing the job it is not likely that the problems will be solved by creating still another agency. Bureaucracy doesn't work that way.

Recently, S. 200, sponsored by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff (D-Conn.), which would establish an Agency for Consumer Advocacy, was approved by a Senate committee. Ralph Nader was its leading advocate at hearings before the committee.

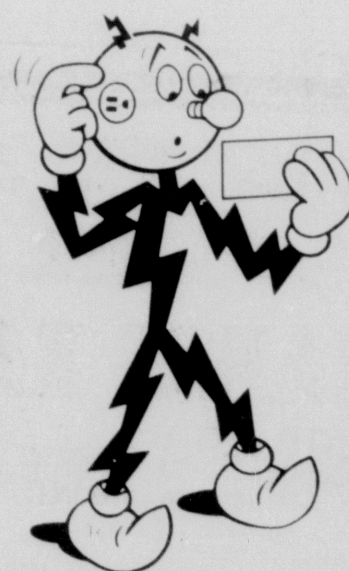

Unless consumers speak up, they may find such an agency crammed down their throats. While Congressmen may not believe in polls, they do believe in letters from constituents back home.

Open House Set For Retirees

Ft. Hood will host an open house for retired army personnel, their survivors and dependents on May 10. Invitations to the event have been mailed to more than 17,000 people living in a 179 county area - extending from Odessa to Texarkana and from Childress to Galveston.

The purpose of the open house is two-fold: to provide retirees with the latest information on their rights, benefits, and privileges earned through retirement; and to give them the opportunity to renew their interest and prospective of today's active Army.

Upon their arrival, the visitors will receive a welcome address by Lieutenant General Robert M. Shoemaker, Commander, III Corps & Ft. Hood.

TP&L customers want to know:

"How do rising fuel prices affect my electric bill?"

Texas Power & Light generating plants require enormous quantities of natural gas, lignite coal and, when deliveries of gas are curtailed, fuel oil, to produce electricity.

TP&L's 1974 fuel costs were more than double the costs in 1972, and will be more than $160,000,000 in 1975, 70% greater than in 1974.

Unlike most businesses, we cannot raise the basic price of electricity as the costs of producing it go up. Our rates are established and altered only by resolution or ordinance of City Councils. For this reason, TP&L, and virtually every electric company in the nation, has a fuel adjustment provision in its rates.

When TP&L's cost of boiler fuel exceeds 20 cents per million BTU's (the equivalent of 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas), the adjustment provision permits us to pass on to our customers the additional cost. We make no profit on the fuel.

Beginning this month, a notation on your electric bill will show what the per-kilowatt-hour fuel charge is for the month. Multiply this amount by the total number of kilowatt-hours on your bill and you have the fuel adjustment charge. Every customer pays the same fuel adjustment rate for each kilowatt-hour used.

"What is TP&L doing to offset rising fuel prices?"

To offset the rising prices of natural gas and fuel oil, TP&L is constructing large generating units which will use relatively low cost lignite coal. Two such units have been in operation since 1972. Eleven additional units are scheduled to be placed in service in the period from 1975 to 1982.

We want our customers to know why the fuel adjustment charge is necessary and how it affects the price of electric service.

Planters Liked For Mobility

The nice thing about planters is that they can be moved easily if the flowers or colors don't look right after they bloom, or if more room is needed tempo-rarily on the patio or deck.

Planter boxes can be built in any size and the larger ones can have casters on the bottom, recessed so they won't show.

Western cedar is a good wood for planters, because of its natural resistance to decay, and preservative treated Douglas fir or western pine also can be used.

Heavy Equipment Training Offered

A recent $429,000 federal grant to the Texas Highway Department has made it pos-sible for Texas residents to receive tuition free highway heavy equipment operator training at the James Coh-nally Campus of Texas State Technical Institute.

The first 12 week session will begin June 3 at the State Tech Waco campus with other classes beginning with the initiation of each quarter.

More than 400 hours of heavy equipment training will be involved in the course with half the time being de-voted to on-the-job training and the other half involved with classroom sessions. The classroom sessions will include preventive maintenance, surveying, and safety procedures, while the on-the-seat training will in-volve experience on bull-dozers, motor-graders, mo-tor-scrappers, wheel trac-tors or excavators.

Enrollment will be limi-ted to 25 students per quar-ter with the only require-ment being that students be at least 18 years of age.

Students will choose a sin-gle piece of equipment and will be trained on that specific machine rather than moving from one to another during the 12 weeks.

All training in the highway industry geared training pro-gram will be carried out on the James Connally campus in Waco.

The program is approved by the Veterans Administra-tion and other types of fi-nancial assistance are avail-able.

A free placement service will be provided to those who complete the program and graduates will also re-ceive OSHA safety certi-fication cards.

The program is also open to persons now on the job who wish to upgrade their knowledge of heavy equip-ment operation.

Persons desiring addi-tional information may con-tact Charlie Brannon at build-ing 5-4 at the Texas State Technical Institute campus in Waco, 76705.

TJHA To Sponsor Awards

Morgan Cox, Junior Here-ford Association president, has announced that the TJHA will sponsor, in conjunction with the American Hereford Association, a junior achieve-ment awards program for interested Texas junior mem-bers.

This program has been designed as a tool whereby an individual state jun or association member who has shown exceptional ability and desire to do an excellent job of developing and pro-moting enthusiasm, leader-ship, and growth of the He-reford industry in their area can be properly recognized and rewarded for their ef-forts.

A junior and a senior di- vision winner will be named

50¢ Oranges In Future?

The Environmental Pro-tection Agency (EPA) is trying to devise federal re-gulations to control truck noises which are a nuisance to the public.

The plan is to require en-gineering changes in truck motors and equipment, in-cluding, perhaps, quieter ti-res. You might surmise this is a problem for the EPA to work out with the truck manufacturers and the trucking operators.

But it's really more far-reaching.

The Department of Trans- portation has already add-ed some $2,009 to the cost of heavy trucks by its new air brake standards. With $3,000 added to pay the cost of making trucks less noisy, the $40,000 to $50,000 diesel truck n. v be just around the corner.

"If that should be the case," a noise expert for the Chamber of Commerce of the United States recently said, "50 cent oranges and fish at $4a pound will become a reality. To the extent al-lowable, these higher truck prices will be passed on to the consumer."

The Chamber has urged EPA to phase in noise ceil-ings over a longer period, starting in 1978, rather than 1977, and to allow three years to assess the economic im-pact and develop new tech-nology.

Meanwhile, the EPA has no other problem on its hands. If trucks are such noise-makers, why is it that there was little or no reduction in overall traffic noise lev-els on the New Jersey Turnpike during a trucking strike last year

BUDAPEST

Sharply increased prices for Soviet oil have caused budgetary disruption throughout eastern Europe, forcing a reassessment of many economic goals. The average 130 percent was imposed in January, 12 months earlier than expected, after communist governments had already completed development plans for 1975.

NORTH YEMEN

Royalist sheikhs, flying to the banner of the deposed imam (king) of Yemen are still fighting government forces in a war that most of the world had forgotten. In Sana'a, capital of the Arab republic of North Yemen, officials instinctively lower their voices if the conversation turns to the war that officially ended five years ago. The fighting is continuing in remote valleys.

GENEVA

Switzerland, which has given a home to the chocolate rabbit and the chocolate duck, not to speak of the chocolate snowman and the chocolate Santa Clause, is facing hard times in an industry that often seems as quintessentially Swiss as the Alps. The sweet-toothed Swiss imported 26 percent more chocolate last year than in 1973, but exports, a major money earner, dropped by eight percent.

CUKURCH, TURKEY

In this remote mountainous corner of Turkey, where women are shrouded in black from head to ankle and men sip their tea in male-only tea houses, women's lib, it seems, has made its mark. Just west of here, in a two-house settlement with its water mill, oxen and nut-crope the headman is a woman. The unwritten rules of the unnamed riverside hamlet stipulate that no man may go to market to sell crops without her permission.

BUDGET-STRETCHING BRIEFS

To conserve energy and stretch gasoline dollars, warm your car up for at least three minutes before driving. Then, try to stay below 30 miles an hour for the first three or four miles. By doing this, you can save as much as four miles per gallon.

When you go shopping, take a shopping list with you. And resolve to stick to that list, no matter what. Otherwise, you might throw your budget way out of whack with impulse buying.

SKYWARD - The Big Bend ride at Six Flags Over Texas is silhouetted against the noonday sky. The 55-mile-an-hour thrill ride is one of the major attractions at the huge Texas theme park. Six Flags Over Texas begins its 1975 season March 15.

Memorials Listed For Heart Assoc.

The American Heart Association has received the following memorials:

Mrs. Ora Pullin of Pharr, given by Mary M. Buck; Mrs. Clifford Swift, John Mangum Jr. of San Antonio, Vince Matula of Temple, Mrs. Estelle Hinton, given by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin York of Temple.

Contributions may be sent to the American Heart Association, Mrs. Don Humble, 902 E. 7 Street, Cameron, Texas 76520.

The American Heart Association points five facts about heart disease, and the fact that hearts are being saved because research is making new discoveries about prevention and treatment, and because people are learning these five facts.

Risks of heart attack can be reduced by having regular medical checkups, controlling high blood pressure, eating less saturated fats, not smoking cigarettes, keeping weight normal, and exercising regularly.

All heart cases can be cared for best if diagnosed early.

Almost every heart condition can be helped by proper treatment.

Great advances have been made in heart surgery.

Most heart patients can keep on working—very often at the same job.

Gazebo Offers Shady Retreat

Garden gazebo reached by walkway from house attracts party crowds, offers shaded retreat for family activities. Posts of 4x4-inch western wood support arbor of spaced 2x2s on 2x8 rafters. Deck, walks are built of 2x4-inch Douglas fir laid flat.

For Cool Haven in Garden, Erect Easy Wood Gazebo

Garden gazebos offering secluded shelter attract a crowd during parties and provide a favorite spot for everyday outdoor family relaxation.

A gazebo is even more inviting when it's at the end of a decked walkway, constructed of slightly spaced 2x4-inch western lumber.

An attractive gazebo built by one family actually is a simple arbor set on posts, covering a decked area bordered by an open railing.

Arbor Filters Light
The 4x4-inch posts, of naturally durable western cedar, are set on concrete footings and support rafters of paired 2x8s. The "roof" of the gazebo is 2x2s spaced an inch apart across the rafters.

This arbor admits filtered sunlight for hanging plants and long planter boxes set along the outer edges of the deck. Where more shade or privacy is required, walls of spaced slats can be added.

The decking of 2x4-inch Douglas fir laid flat is connected by a walkway with another deck adjacent to the house, offering a fast-drying outdoor living area.

Dining Spot Cool
The sturdy but open railing surrounding the gazebo deck and continuing along the walkway is built with 4x4 posts, alternating with paired 2x2 posts, and has a 2x4 flat rail.

A garden table and chairs offer a shady setting for alfresco lunches. Benches could be built onto the railings when additional seating is desired.

Garden structures can be stained for a darker tone, tinted with a touch of gray or green, or left unfinished to weather naturally. Painting is unnecessary and often becomes an annual or biennial job.

Calvert To Host Pilgrimage

The small Victorian community of Calvert will host its third annual Robertson County Springtime Pilgrimage and the spring 100 Texas Place Arts and Crafts Show and Sale on April 26 and 27.

Eight historic Victorian homes, one contemporary ranch home and five historic churches will be open to the public. Many of the homes have been cited by state experts as outstanding examples of Victorian architecture and the town itself has been called "the state's largest assemblage of true Victoriana."

100 Texas Place will host 145 artists and craftsmen from across the state of Texas. Many will demonstrate their techniques. Special guest is Arthello Beck, a young black artist recently named by art critics as one of the eight outstanding artists in the southwest.

The pilgrimage will open Saturday morning at 11 and will close at 5 in the afternoon, reopening Sunday for the same hours. The art show will be open from 11 until 6 both days. Tour tickets are $3 each and the art show is free.

Food facilities will be set up in several locations throughout town.

Cheerleaders Elected

In District Slug Fest

Yoe Overpowers Lions, 10-0

The Cameron Yoemen revealed a slug fest Thursday night when they defeated the Leander Lions 10-0 to add an assuring mark to their district lead in District 23

Out of Orbit

"NAVIGATOR TO PILOT—COUNTDOWN FOR SCHOOL"

AA. The Yoemen now stand 4-1 in the district.

The hapless Lions were held to only two hits during the entire evening, while the Yoemen were 10 for 10 in the hitting department. Sophomore Gerry Heitman was on the mound for the Yoemen and now stands 6-1 from the mound.

In the Yoemen's half of the first inning Gene Kopriva struck out on the called strike followed by Randy Sapp who took first base on a walk.

Joe Smitherman connected with the pitch from Gabriel Pena, which was good for a stand up triple and an RBI that scored Sapp. Jeff Smitherman tagged first base to score Joe and on his way to second, was tagged out for the second Yoemen out.

In the second inning the Yoemen again crossed the home plate for 2 runs. Ricky Kelley singled to first base followed by Gerry Heitman who sacrificed Kelley to second. Kelley looped to third base to gain a stolen base. Kopriva tapped a single to left field that scored Kelley. Randy Sapp stepped to the batters box to gain an RBI to his record after he doubled to the left field fence bringing in Kopriva.

In the third inning the Yoemen increased the lead to 7 runs when Ricky Kelley started off the inning when he gained passage via an error by the second baseman. Kelley circled the bag to second and on the slide jarred the ball loose on impact with the second baseman and on an overthrown pitch Kelley was waved onto score. Joey Mondrik and Gary Hornung were on base with two hard hit doubles and tagged home plate for two runs.

The fourth and fifth innings were blanked and the Yoemen held their own with a comfortable 7 run lead.

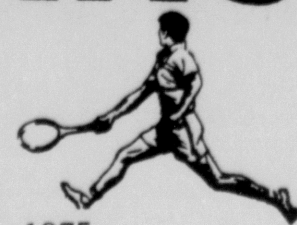

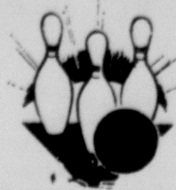

The Yoemen bled the Wildcats with 3 runs in the sixth to stop the game one inning short of the 7 official innings. In the district rules their is a 10 run-five inning rule.

Gene Kopriva took a base on balls followed by a single to left field that scored Kopriva. Between the pitches to Sapp, Kopriva advanced with two stolen bases.

Joe Smitherman also tagged first base via base on balls from relief pitcher Willy Thurmond. Jeff Smitherman overpowered the wood to pop a double to the center fielder which scored Sapp and Joe Smitherman.

The Yoemen will unleash another district outing in home territory starting the loop over with Rosebud-Lott. The Yoemen defeated the Cougars earlier in the season, 13-5.

To Regain District Lead

Yoemen Slip Past Elgin, 5-3

The Cameron Yoemen sagged away a 5-2 district win over the Elgin Wildcats Tuesday in Elgin. The Yoemen tagged the home plate in the first inning and scored three runs in the last two innings to assure the district victory that advanced the Yoemen into the district lead.

Coming to the plate in the top of the first inning Gene Kopriva was the first batter called and the first pitch he bought passage to first base with a single to left field.

Randy Sapp went to the plate and sacrificed Kopriva to second base with a bunt followed by a hard hit double to left center by Joe Smitherman. Kopriva dashed to knock the Yoemen on the scoreboard.

Smitherman scored when Joey Mondrik popped the hardball for a single into left field. The Yoemen took command with a 2-0 lead.

Elgin could never recover from the fanning that Yoe pitcher, Jeff Smitherman was issuing from the mound that gained him another district win.

The Wildcats toed home plate rubber for the first time in the fourth inning and again in the seventh before the contest ended. In the fifth inning the Yoemen again with a strong hitting force crossed the 3 bags and into home plate. The Yoemen used the seventh inning to equal their first inning score finding another

2 run inning. The Yoemen were 10 for 30 for their 5 runs.

The win advanced the Yoemen to the district lead with a win-loss record of 3-1 and slapped the Wildcats into 3-2 race record.

Troy Trojans Top 53-B Track Meet

The Troy Trojans governed the District 53B track meet in Rockdale Thursday. The Trojans swept the meet and tallied 158 points to gain the district title.

banks. It resembles the milkweed and has a toxic, milky juice.

Whenever you head for the great out-of-doors, beware of the vegetation--it could be hazardous to your health, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials. It's a good idea to bone up on the perils that lurk among that beautiful flora that will surround you.

Roasting wieners over a campfire, for instance, calls for a stout twig to use as a skewer. One from an oleander bush could make it your last meal. Even the smoke from burning oleander affects some people and just handling the leaves and branches of this deadly plant can cause dermatitis.

A relative of oleander is dogbane, found in open ground, edges of woods and stream

A single bite of the roots of water hemlock, found in wet low ground, such as swamps and stream banks, can kill man by convulsion. It's definitely not the beneficial parsley which it resembles.

Posion hemlock also looks like parsley, but this notorious plant of fields and roadsides lives up to its name by causing fatal paralysis.

Horse chestnuts look tempting for food, but only after leaching to remove the poison. Anyone picking them up for a quick snack can end up with a nervous system affected to the point of paralysis and death.

MILAM AREA PARADE OF SPORTS

Walter Stanford, owner and operator of Walter's Shoe Shop in Cameron, says the fishing is always good at Cripple Creek and Red Canyon, Colorado. Shown here are a couple of brown trout taken from Cripple Creek during his two-week camping trip last July. These two were about 18 inches long and weighed about 2 1/2 to 3 pounds. Walter says the majority of their catch were specks but there were plenty of browns also. Walter, his wife Mary, and daughter Linda, go to this area in Colorado every year for these "fish outs." He says the amazing thing is they always run into someone out there from the local area. The local area for Walter is Belton lake where he lives with his family and commutes daily to his shoe shop in Cameron. Anyone for fishing?

Three Young Texans Named To 'Hall Of Fame'

Three young people from Texas who rose from the ranks of the disadvantaged by acquiring education and marketable skills in the Job Corps today were named to the Corps' 'Hall of Fame.'

Secretary of Labor, Peter J. Brennan, saluted the 'Hall of Fame' winners for "emphasizing those qualities that made America great," at the observance of the Job Corps' Tenth Anniversary, in Washington, D.C.

"These outstanding young men and women are wonderful examples of how the Job Corps has helped hundreds of thousands of disadvantaged American youth improve their lives," he said.

The three Job Corps Hall of Fame winners include Jessie Al Lane, a graduate of the Timber Lake Job Corps Center in Oregon in 1971.

At the age of 20, he had earned his high school diploma equivalency (GED) and enough skills to qualify as an apprentice plasterer.

A working member of Local 783 in Austin, Lane has purchased a mobile home and supports his mother, brother, and a nephew.

In addition to his work, which earns him approximately $12,000 a year, he devotes much of his time to counseling potential and present Job Corpsmembers and to helping recent graduates adjust to their new jobs and productive life styles.

Jean Henderson, a widow, was supporting her three children on a motel maid's pay of $25 a week in 1967, when she enrolled at the Job Corps center in McKinney, Texas. In less than a year, she earned a high school diploma equivalency, completed a course in office occupations, and began working at clerical occupations.

Today, she is secretary in the Dallas Regional Office of the Social Security Administration, at a salary of $10,000 a year and owns her own home.

Although she is furthering her education at Dallas Junior College and teaches Sunday school, Henderson finds time to accept invitations to speak about the Job Corps on television and at business luncheons.

The final Hall of Fame winner from Texas was Rosa Isela Mendoza, a 19 year old accounting specialist in the U. S. Air Force at Nellis Air Force Base in Las Vegas.

Rosa, the daughter of a migrant farm worker, came to the United States from Mexico when she was fourteen years old. She left the seventh grade to work with her family harvesting crops from Texas and Florida to Michigan until she enrolled in the Job Corps in 1971 at the McKinney Job Corps Center. She was placed with the Air Force by Job Corps where she learned her present skills and is permanently stationed at Nellis as a subsegment accounting specialist. She is buying her own home and is an enthusiastic recruiter for Job Corps on the side.

School Bill Figures Due

Rep. Dan Kubiak says he has received a number of calls asking for district-by-district figures on the various school finance proposals before the House Public Education Committee.

In his weekly newsletter, he said the computer figures will give each school district an idea of how much money would be supplied by each plan and whether property tax increases would be required.

Kubiak said Gov. Briscoe released computer read-outs on his school finance bill, but then modified his bill and rendered the computer information inaccurate. The original Briscoe bill would have forced large property tax increases in many school districts, Kubiak noted, and opposition to higher local taxes probably prompted the governor to change his bill.

Kubiak said computer figures on his bill, the modified Briscoe bill, the TSTA bill, and several others should be available soon and he will distribute the information when he receives it.

Kubiak said his bill keeps most funding at the state level and relieves the property tax burden.
